Department News

Three of our instructors have won 2019 University Teaching Awards! Congratulations to Dr. Beth Kurtz-Costes, Dr. Marsha Penner, and Holly Shablack!

Dr. Kurtz-Costes, a Zachary Taylor Smith Distinguished Term Professor of Developmental Psychology, won the William C. Friday/Class of 1986 Award for Excellence in Teaching. This award was created by members of the 1986 graduating class to recognize members of the faculty who have exemplified excellence in inspirational teaching and is named in honor of William C. Friday.

Dr. Marsha Penner, a Teaching Assistant Professor, won the Tanner Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching. This award was created in 1952 in memory of Lola Spencer and Simpson Bobo Tanner. The award was established to recognize excellence in inspirational teaching of undergraduate students, particularly first and second-year students.

Holly Shablack, a graduate student in Social Psychology, won the Tanner Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching by a Graduate Teaching Assistant. This award was created in 1990 by the University to expand the purview of the Tanner Awards to recognize the inspirational teaching by graduate students in their teaching of undergraduate students.

Dr. Kurtz-Costes, Dr. Penner, and Holly, along with 21 other faculty members and graduate students, are the winners of Carolina's 2019 University Teaching Awards. They will receive one-time stipends, framed citations, be recognized at the UNC-Syracuse men's basketball game on February 26, and honored at an awards banquet on April 8!

News, continued.

Dr. Jeannie Loeb, Teaching Professor, has been selected as a fellow for the 2019-20 class of the Academic Leadership Program in the Institute for the Arts and Humanities (IAH). The IAH helps prepare and support current and emerging academic leaders through a yearlong program. Eight fellows are selected annually to engage in a series of activities to help them develop leadership skills, clarify their career commitments, build a leadership network within the campus, and extend their contacts to other leaders beyond the University. Once appointed, fellows join an expanding community who receive ongoing support from their new network of colleagues. Following the ALP fellowship, fellows continue to receive opportunities through a monthly leadership forum, workshops, short courses, and seminars on advanced topics in academic leadership; conferences and workshops for all fellows from all years on topics of concerns to faculty and the University; and meetings with University and state leaders to discuss important issues facing our campus. Congratulations to Dr. Loeb on joining the ALP class of 2019-20!

Dr. Enrique Neblett, Associate Professor of Clinical Psychology has been selected to serve on a Faculty Advisory Committee on the Confederate Statute for the UNC Office of Faculty Governance. The creation of the new faculty advisory committee is to be included by the university administration in all planning for the disposition of the statue and related actions or developments and was passed recently in resolutions 2018-10 and 2019-1 by the UNC Faculty Council. Recommendations were solicited from the entire faculty at Carolina and Dr. Neblett, along with 14 other faculty who represent a range of departments and schools, have agreed to serve.

Congratulations to 19 Psychology and Neuroscience instructors for garnering a Departmental Undergraduate Teaching Commendation for Fall 2018! This list includes Steve Buzinski, Vicki Chanon, Shauna Cooper, Oscar Gonzalez, Amelia Goranson, Kurt Gray, Melissa Grimes, Christina Lebonville, Kristen Lindquist, Jeannie Loeb, Kelsey Ludwig, Giulia Pancani, Marsha Penner, Rachel Penton, Kate Reissner, Holly Shablack, William Snider, Danielle Weber, and Charlie Wiss! Our Undergraduate Teaching Commendations are awarded to faculty and graduate student instructors whose course rating evaluations for their undergraduate courses are in the top 15-20% of the department, with response ratings greater than 50% of the class (with a minimum of 10 student respondents). Congratulations to all of our Fall 2018 commendation recipients!

Three of our doctoral students were selected as 2019 Frances Degen Horowitz Millennium Scholars by the Society for Research in Child Development (SRCD)! The Millennium Scholars Program (MSP) was developed as a vehicle to encourage and support scholars from underrepresented ethnic/racial groups from North America in their pursuit of graduate work in developmental science. MSP provides educational and professional development for these scholars, giving them a launching point for a career in the field. Through participation in MSP, minority scholars have the opportunity to attend the SRCD Biennial Meeting, special pre-conference activities, and the possibility to develop a lasting mentoring relationship with their mentors. These experiences enable scholars to gain valuable exposure to the field and allow them to interact with their mentors, scholars, and other professionals. Congratulations to April Highlander (Clinical Psychology), Margaret McBride (Developmental Psychology), and Aaron Neal (Clinical Psychology)! They will be attending the 2019 Biennial Meeting in Baltimore, Maryland, March 21-23!
