Department News

Mian-Li Ong, a graduate student in Clinical Psychology is the recipient of the Society of Clinical Psychology's 2019 Distinguished Student Service Award. The Distinguished Student Service Award honors a graduate student in clinical psychology who has made outstanding service contributions to the profession and the community. Mian-Li was selected for this award for his outstanding commitment to service in clinical psychology and will receive an award certificate, honorarium, and a two-year subscription to the Journal of Clinical Psychology: Science and Practice.

Dr. Kamilah Legette, a Postdoctoral Fellow in Developmental Psychology, has been awarded the 2019-21 American Education Research Association (AERA) and Society for Research in Child Development (SRCD) Early Career Research Fellowship in Middle Childhood Education and Development. This fellowship provides a 2-year collaborative opportunity for early career scholars to participate in a research network focused on middle childhood education and development. The purpose of this initiative is to build an early career cohort of scholars with integrative interests and expertise at the nexus of child development and formal/informal education and learning in their broader social context. It leverages the expertise and convening capacity of both organizations to expand early career scholars' research competencies and enhance their research programs.

Dr. Legette was selected as member of the 2019-2021 cohort of AERA-SRCD fellows for her strong track record in child development, educational research, and research grounded in behavioral and science fields with an emphasis on children, early childhood, and education, and learning.

News, continued.

Congratulations to 7 Psychology and Neuroscience instructors for garnering a Departmental Graduate Teaching Commendation for Fall 2018! The list includes Donald Baucom, Patrick Curran, Sylvia Fitting, Kelly Giovanello, Joe Hopfinger, Enrique Neblett, and Jonathan Parsons. Our Graduate Teaching Commendations are awarded to faculty and graduate student instructors whose course ratings are within the top 15% among all graduate instructors (with a minimum of 5 student respondents). Congratulations to all of our Fall 2018 commendation recipients!

19 of our Psychology and Neuroscience undergraduates are Spring 2019 initiates of the Alpha of North Carolina Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. Phi Beta Kappa is one of the oldest and most distinguished of all collegiate honorary societies. Membership is a recognition of academic excellence achieved during the completion of a liberal arts and sciences undergraduate education. Phi Beta Kappa objectives include intellectual honesty and tolerance, a broad range of intellectual interests, and a lifelong commitment to the pursuit of learning. Congratulations to our Spring 2019 inductees: Megan Almon, Brittany Bailey, Halley Ballou, Hannah Balser, Anna Berman, Emily Danes, Bethany Garrison, Brittany Jenkins, Connor Linden, Victoria Mathew, Emily Pender, Rasika Rao, Haley Schilly, Sania Siddiqui, Kelsey Sutton, Courtney Thomas, Lauren Walters, Elizabeth Wilson, and Emily Winterich-Knox.

Taylor Thomas, a graduate student in Developmental Psychology, is the recipient of the 2019-2020 American Psychological Division 41 grant. Division 41 is the American Psychology-Law Society and works to advance the contributions of psychology to the understanding of law and legal institutions through basic and applied research; promotes the education of psychologists in matters of law and the education of legal personnel in matters of psychology; and informs the psychological and legal communities and the general public of current research, educational, and service activities in the field of psychology and law. Grants in the amount of $1,000 are awarded by the Division 41 Grants-in-Aid Committee to support empirical graduate research that addresses psycho-legal issues. Taylor received a grant for her research project, "The Influence of Suggestive Interviews and Parent-Child Conversations on Children's Memory Reports."

Congratulations to the 7 Psychology and Neuroscience faculty recipients of the 2019 Stephenson and Lindquist Awards! These awards are departmental funding awards and their purpose is to support the research activities of our faculty. Drs. Shauna Cooper and Eva Telzer were awarded funds to purchase a video communication system to enhance several aspects of the research process, including recruitment, survey and assessment, lab management, and to further research productivity. Drs. Rachel Penton, Sabrina Robertson, Marsha Penner, and Kelly Giovanello were awarded funds toward purchasing electrophysiology equipment for the proposed research and lab-based neuroscience research methods course, which will offer undergraduate neuroscience majors hands-on lab experiences in research-like settings. Dr. Kate Reissner and colleagues in Behavioral and Integrative Neuroscience were awarded funds towards the generation of novel cellular markers of calcium signaling in astrocytes. By generating and using this tool, Dr. Reissner's team can image responses of nucleus accumbens astrocytes to cocaine and share it both locally and broadly within the neuroscience community. Congratulations to this year's recipients of the Stephenson and Lindquist Awards!

CDS Carolina Consortium

The Center for Developmental Science invites you to the Spring 2019 Carolina Consortium. This year's theme is "Transdiagnostic Developmental Mechanisms Underlying Adolescent Psychopathology."

All events are held at CDS on Mondays, 2—3 :15 pm.
