Department News

Emma Erhardt, a third year Psychology B.S. undergraduate student, was selected as a 2019 recipient of the Robert E. Bryan Public Service Award. This award honors the memory and accomplishments of alumnus Robert E. Bryan '26. Five Bryan Awards are given for a specific effort exemplifying outstanding engagement and service to the State of North Carolina. Emma was selected as this year's undergraduate award winner for her work in founding Stage Play, an organization within the Campus Y that provides acting classes to children with autism. Stage Play helps these children better address social stressors and develop skills and comfort in social situations. Emma received a cash award, framed certificate, and recognition at the Annual Public Services Ceremony on April 1, 2019.

Effua Sosoo, a graduate student in Clinical Psychology, was selected for the Center for Deployment Psychology's (CDP) Summer Institute: Preparing for a Career in the Armed Forces. The CDP is a part of the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences. The Summer Institute is a five day course for 2nd—4th year doctoral students in clinical and counseling psychology and was established in 2015 to raise doctoral students' awareness of what it would be like to serve as a psychologist in the Armed Forces and increase the competitiveness for a military internship. This intensive program will strengthen trainees' backgrounds in military behavioral health as they gain firsthand knowledge of military culture, the work of psychologists serving in uniform, and evidence-based strategies to treat military members. Effua will attend the 2019 Summer Institute June 10—14 at the Uniformed Services University in Bethesda, Maryland, where many U.S. military medical providers are educated. Congratulations, Effua!

News, continued.

Kelsey Ludwig, a graduate student in Clinical Psychology, is the recipient of a 2019 UNC Graduate School Richard Bland Fellowship. The Richard Bland Fellowship Professional Pathways Program supports doctoral students as they explore non-faculty career paths through the design and experience of a unique summer internship opportunity. Students work with a host organization to propose a 200 hour minimum internship plan to achieve professional goals and learning objectives. The fellowship includes a $5,000 summer stipend to enable the student to engage exclusively in this unique learning internship for the summer. As a Richard Bland Fellow, Kelsey will spend June and July 2019 at the Coalition on Homelessness in San Francisco, California.

Alyssa Aihui Guo, a senior Psychology B.S. major, was selected for the inaugural 2019 Donald T. Lysle Service Award. This award recognizes a undergraduate psychology or neuroscience senior who has made exemplary service contributions. Alyssa was chosen in recognition of her dedication of service to so many meaningful organizations, particularly in founding the Undergraduate Research Society and her involvement in the UNC Scholars Program and the Student Health Action Coalition. Alyssa was honored at the 2019 Chancellor's Awards Ceremony, the only campus-wide recognition at UNC, on April 16, 2019.

Heidi Vuletich, a graduate student in Developmental and Social Psychology, is a recipient of the 2019-20 P.E.O. Scholar Award. The P.E.O. Scholar awards are one-time, competitive, merit-based awards intended to recognize and encourage academic excellence and achievement by women in doctoral level programs. P.E.O. Scholars have demonstrated their ability to make significant contributions in their chosen field of study, having assumed leadership positions in university academics, scientific research, medicine, law, performing arts, international economics, history, literature, government, and other demanding fields. Heidi will receive a $15,000 award to support her study and research. She is one of 150 women out of 945 nominees to receive this prestigious award. Heidi was selected for her scholarly excellence, academic achievement, worthy career goals, and her ability to make a significant contribution to her field. Congrats, Heidi!

Dr. Kurt Gray, an Associate Professor of Social Psychology, is the recipient of a 2019 grant by the John Templeton Foundation. The Foundation invests in bold ideas from contrarian thinkers—ideas that cross disciplinary boundaries and challenge conventional assumptions with innovative programs that engage the public with these ideas in an effort to open minds, deepen understanding, and inspire curiosity. Dr. Gray received a total award of over $234,000 over three years for his project, “Characterizing and Predicting Variation in Representations of Gods Across Culture and History.”

Dr. Travis Moschak, a postdoctoral fellow in Behavioral and Integrative Neuroscience, is the recipient of a 2019 K99 Pathway to Independence grant by the National Institutes of Health. The purpose of this award program is to increase and maintain a strong cohort of new and talented NIH-supported independent investigators. The program provides independent NIH research support to help awardees to launch competitive, independent research careers. Dr. Moschak received a total award of over $232,000 over two years for his project, “Neural Circuitry of Distress Tolerance.”
