Department News

Kylie Bezdek, a graduate student in Developmental Psychology, is the recipient of a 2019-20 Society for Research in Child Development (SRCD) Pre-Doctoral State Policy Fellowship. This fellowship aims to provide participants with firsthand experience in state policymaking, program implementation, and evaluation, while also providing state executive branch agencies greater access to child development research expertise. Kylie is one of four SRCD fellows with placements in state executive branch offices that work on state pre-kindergarten programs. She was selected for her strong scholarship in early childhood development and will serve as a 2019-20 SRCD fellow at NC's Division of Child Development and Early Education.

Dr. Todd Thiele, a Professor of Behavioral and Integrative Neuroscience, is the recipient of a MERIT R37 Award by the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism. The prestigious MERIT award provides stable long-term funding support to outstanding, experienced investigators who have maintained high research productivity. This award provides funding for 5 years and can be renewed for up to 10 years. Dr. Thiele received the MERIT for his innovative research studying the role of neuropeptide Y brain circuitry in the modulation of binge alcohol drinking.

Dr. Jennifer Arnold, a Professor of Cognitive Psychology, is the recipient of a 2019 National Science Foundation grant. She received a total award of over $475,000 over four years for her project, "Does Discourse Priming Change Reference Comprehension Strategies?"

News, continued.

7 Psychology and Neuroscience Honors students are the recipients of a 2019 David Bray Peele Award, which supports work for their Honors projects. It honors David Bray Peele who received his Bachelor's degree from the Department of Psychology in 1975 and worked with Dr. Mark Waller on an Honor's thesis. Congratulations to award recipients Carley Cook, Willa King, Emma McQueen, Trusha Patel, Alex Proca, Sinclair Scales, and Taylor Weckstein!

16 of our Psychology and Neuroscience undergraduates are Fall 2019 initiates of the Alpha of North Carolina Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. Phi Beta Kappa is one of the oldest and most distinguished of all collegiate honorary societies and membership is a recognition of academic excellence achieved during an undergraduate education. Congratulations to the Fall 2019 inductees: Rachel Albert, Danielle Atchiler, Courtney Barth, Benjamin Bolton, Margaret Brown, Cathy Chi, Carley Cook, Abigayle Fogarty, Lauren Gaeta, Kristen Hines, Grace Langley, Ava Liccione, Julia Tian, Taylor Weckstein, Olivia Weidner, and Eileen Yang! They will be honored at the Fall Initiation Ceremony on November 6 at 5 pm in the Moeser Auditorium in Hill Hall.

4 Psychology and Neuroscience faculty members are our 2019 recipients of Stephenson and Lindquist Awards. This award is a departmental funding award that supports research activities of our faculty. Dr. Kate Reissner, an Associate Professor of Behavioral & Integrative Neuroscience, was awarded funds for a Miltenyi Magnetic Cell Separation System, which will establish a shared system for purification of three different cell types (neurons, astrocytes, and microglia) from rodent brain tissue. Dr. Jennifer Arnold, a Professor of Cognitive Psychology, was funded to support two experiments using MTurk to examine how language use changes over time, as well as to better understand the role of how social attitudes influence the cognitive mechanisms underlying language use. Drs. Kristen Lindquist and Keely Muscatell, faculty members of the Social Psychology Program, were awarded funds to purchase kits for 400 samples to support the analysis of hormone assays that have been collected as a large study assessing the experience of negative emotions during social stress. Congratulations to this year's recipients of the Stephenson and Lindquist Awards!

Dr. Caitlin Turpyn, a postdoctoral fellow in Developmental Psychology, is the recipient of a National Institutes of Health F32 Postdoctoral Fellowship. This award is designed to provide support for advanced and specialized training in basic research associated with clinical problems or in clinical research. Dr. Turpyn received a total award of over $131,000 over three years for her project, "Neurobiological Susceptibility to the Family Environment: An EMA Study of Family Interactions and Adolescent Risk Behavior."

Dr. Jonathan Abramowitz, a Professor of Clinical Psychology, is the recipient of a 2019 National Institutes of Health R01 grant, which provides support for health-related research and development. Dr. Abramowitz received a total award of over $1,500,000 over five years for his project, "Predictors and Course of Postpartum Obsessions and Compulsions."

5th Annual Cowan Lecture

Please save the date to join us for our 5th Annual Ann Rankin Cowan Lecture on Friday, November 22 at 3:00 pm in FedEx Global Center's Nelson Mandela Auditorium. This year's speaker is Dr.

Mahzarin Banaji, a Richard Clarke Cabot Professor of Social Ethics at Harvard University.

She'll present "Blindspot: Hidden Biases of Good People," where she'll speak to the question of how well-intentioned people behave in ways that deviate from their own values and principles—and how this state of affairs compromises decisions in the social context: decisions about a person's worth and competence as it plays out in public settings. This lecture is participatory, involving educational and even entertaining, hands-on exercises and is geared towards providing insights into how our minds work, often in a surprising and perplexing manner.

Please join us for the lecture and catered reception to follow. This event is free & open to the public, thanks to the generous sponsorship from the Cowan Family Foundation.
