Department News

3 Clinical Psychology graduate students are the recipients of 2019-20 Dashiell Dissertation Startup Awards. Congratulations to Jennifer Buchholz, Rachel Sandercock, and Katherine Thompson! The Dashiell Startup Awards honors John Frederick Dashiell, founder of the Department, and is intended to support scientific work by assisting with research expenses.

Dr. Patrick Curran, a Professor of Quantitative Psychology, is the recipient of a 2019 National Institutes of Health and RTI International grant. NIH and the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration launched the HEALing Communities Study to investigate how tools for preventing and treating opioid misuse are most effective at the local level. The goal of this study is to reduce opioid-related overdose deaths by 40% over the course of three years. Research sites are partnering with 67 communities highly affected by the opioid crisis in four states to measure the impact of these efforts. Dr. Curran received a total award of over $240,000 for his project, "HEALing Communities Study: Data Coordinating Center."

Dr. Jessica Cohen, an Assistant Professor of Cognitive Psychology, is the recipient of a 2019 National Institutes of Health R01 grant, the original and historically oldest grant mechanism used by NIH. Dr. Cohen received a total award of over $2,450,000 over five years for her project, "Longitudinal Investigation of the Neurobiological Underpinnings of Risk Behavior in ADHD throughout the Adolescent Transition: The Key Role of Cognitive Control and Motivation Network Development."

Power Study

The Postpartum Women's Experiences Research Study (PoWER) is recruiting postpartum women to complete an online study (approximately 30-45 minutes). You may be eligible if you're between the ages 18-39; you identify as a cisgender female; and you have given birth in the past 12 months. Participants will be entered a drawing for a $30 Amazon gift card. Click here to complete the study. Call 919-962-3986 with questions!

Diversifying Psych Weekend

Our Diversifying Psychology Weekend is an opportunity for talented ethnic/racial minority undergraduates and recent college graduates who are invested in pursuing doctoral-level training in Clinical or Developmental Psychology. Travel, housing, and meals are provided for all attendees.

The next DPW will be held March 26-28. Applications are due by December 16. Questions can be directed to Lisa Clement. More information online here!
